Night trains to various metropoles of Europe

Trains are the most environmentally friendly way of travelling with many advantages over flying. On our night trains most of the journey is spent sleeping, so passengers arrive well rested in the morning in the centre of major cities in Western, Central and Eastern Europe. Our year-round or seasonal trains offer direct connections to Stuttgart, Berlin, Zürich, Prague, Cracow, Warsaw, Braşov, Bucharest, the Adriatic Sea and many other cities around Europe. In addition with only one change you can easily reach destinations such as Paris, Amsterdam, Brussels, the Italian or Romanian coast.

Routes and destinations

Useful tips for using night travel

- Train times are subject to change due to track maintainance and exceptional reasons. A few days before your journey please check the online timetable, railway company websites or at railway stations and customer services to see if your departure or arrival times have changed.
- Most trains have a power socket but it's also a good idea to bring a powerbank for your journey.
- For those who sleep poorly it is also a good idea to bring earplugs and eye covers.
- There is limited space for luggage (suitcases) in the compartments, so it is advisable to travel with as small a bag (rucksack) as possible.

- Bicycles are generally not allowed on overnight trains (except Retro Istria express).
- On overnight trains pets (e.g. cats, dogs, birds) can be transported free of charge in a locked carrier in the seat car. Dogs may be carried in a seat car without a carrier on a leash and muzzle with booking a dog ticket, and further special ticketing conditions may apply. Animals as a general rule may not be carried in the couchette and sleeping cars, but it's advisable to check the relevant carrier's regulations.
